Subject: Fwd: Your campaign Special update on EPA rules has been sent

This just went to the 2,700 retailer contacts on our list. We edited our blog on the potential sell-through to make it clear that any sell-through would only happen later this year - or even next year - and is not a done deal.

Subject: Special update on EPA rules

Volume 129

Special Update

NSPS countdown: 4 days until May 15, 2020

Possible sell-through in fall or 2021 still uncertain

The EPA is making a move to provide relief for wood heater retailers, but it won't be anytime soon and it may not happen at all. Don't count on it.

Program to donate Step 1 stoves to needy families

Consider donating unsold Step 1 stoves this week to low-income families. HPBA's initiative makes it easy, but it has to be complete by this Friday.

FAQ for Stove Retailers

Q. Can I give Step 1 stoves away?

A. You can this week, but not after May 15.

Q. Can I sell used Step 1 stoves?

A. In most states, yes, but not if they were just used in your store. They need to have been used while owned by a "non-commercial entity," not by you or one of your employees.

Q. Can retailers in the United States sell Step 1 stoves in Canada after May 15?

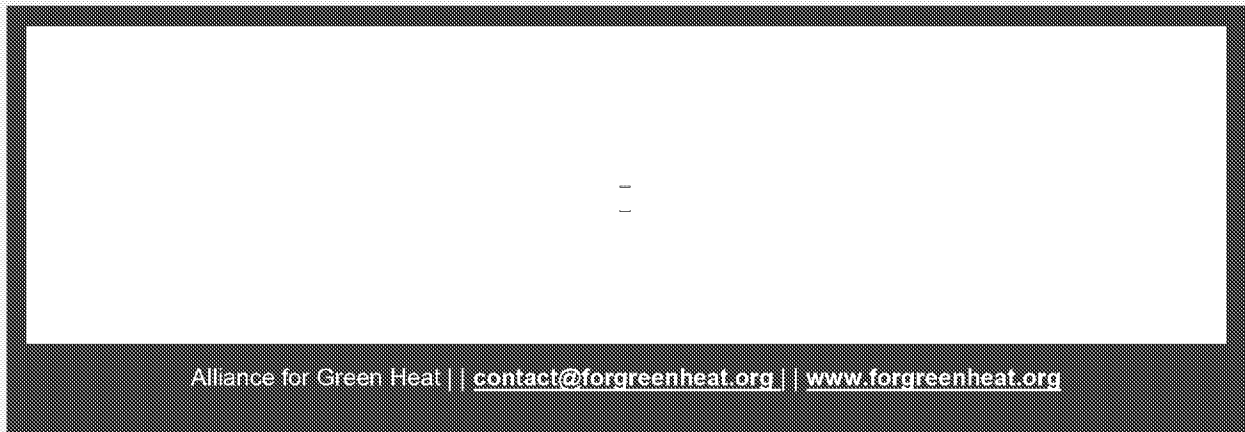

A. No. Retailers are not allowed to transfer ownership of Step 1 stoves after May 15.

However, Canadian retailers who are not in BC or Quebec can sell Step 1 stoves after May 15.

Q. What happened to the sell-through?!

A. It was never a done deal and is still up in the air. If anything is certain about the EPA, it's that it moves slowly and there will be delays.
